Terms and Conditions

1. This contract contains the entire understanding between Colleen Rosenthal Photography and THE CLIENT. The only way to change or add to this agreement is to do so in writing, and providing the change is signed by all the relevant parties.
2. The Session Fee covers all time and energy to produce photographs and is not applied to the cost of any enlargements or digital negatives. It is to be paid at the time of signing. In the event the session needs to be cancelled, every effort will be made to reschedule and the Session Fee applied to a new appointment.
3. Photographs, and digital negatives are protected by Copyright Law (all rights reserved). The Client agrees to a limited rights agreement that allows unrestricted personal use of all photographs.
4. Payment for all artwork is due in full upon making the photography order.
5. For all books ordered, image selection and book ordering should take place within two months after receipt of the photographs from the photographer. Book prices are not guaranteed past this date, and increases in price that occur after this time are the responsibility of the client. The Client should allow 7 weeks for a book's design and production.
6. In the unlikely event of severe medical, natural or other emergency, it may be necessary to reschedule or to retain an alternative photographer. Colleen Rosenthal Photography will make every effort to secure a replacement photographer able and willing to provide the contracted photographic service. In the extremely unlikely event of the client's photographs are lost, or destroyed for reasons within or beyond the photographer's control, the later's liability is limited to the return of all payments received. Colleen Rosenthal Photography is released from any obligation to maintain copies of digital negatives.

If this agreement meets with your approval, please sign and return with your Session Fee.
